Trusted for Strength.

First Place refers to your own home. It is the place where you can withdraw from the world and enjoy your private and personal life. New, creative solutions are needed in cities in response to housing shortages and steadily increasing real estate prices.

The term Second Place refers to either workplaces, schools, or vocational training facilities. In a working world that is constantly changing, new possibilities for unconventional workspace design are opening up.

Places where people meet or otherwise spend time are described as Third Places. These include public spaces in the city, but also airports, train stations, cultural institutions or shops, restaurants, and bars. These Third Places will play an important role in our quality of life in the future.
